How many photographs do you have in old photo albums or piled in boxes? What about the old wedding dress Great-Grandma Witherspoon wore on her wedding day? Your family heritage loses its meaning if someone doesn't work to preserve it, and the same thing happens to our villages, towns, and cities. Without people who have a love for history who will take on the job of collecting heirloom items and pictures and label them for future generations, so much of our heritage would be lost.

In Wyalusing, a group of dedicated volunteers started collecting artifacts of our area's history and putting displays together in a museum. This group began their meetings in the basement of the local library, and from there, the Wyalusing Valley Museum Association has grown and expanded through the efforts of these volunteers. However, like all good ideas, the museum became large enough to require funding. A few creative ladies came up with the idea of a Wine Festival to raise money for the museum. Such an undertaking requires lots of help, so they extended an invitation to the local Lions and Lioness Clubs to assist with the festival and share in the monies raised.

For the sixth year, Pennsylvania Wineries will bring their wines to Wyalusing. Planning is underway for this magical day in a usually quiet meadow. Through the efforts of dozens of volunteers, tents spring up, delicious smells waft through the breeze, crafters sell their wares, music lightens the mood, and people dance and laugh. The Sixth Annual Wine Festival is being planned for Saturday, September 12th from 12:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m.

Without the help of sponsors like you, The Wyalusing Valley Wine Festival would never have reached the level of success we have enjoyed. We hope you will continue to support us in this sixth year of the festival. As always, contributions are tax-deductible. Contributions can be mailed to PO Box 322, Wyalusing, PA 18853.

Sponsors who send contributions by July 1, 2009 will be represented on the Recognition Banner which will hang at the event entrance. The Wyalusing Valley Museum and the Wyalusing Lions and Lioness Clubs sincerely appreciate the support you have given in the past.
